Summary

The content tells the story of the little girl Dorothy, who was swept up by a tornado and landed in a strange country of Oz. She couldn't find her way home, so she went to the Emerald City to ask the great magician King Oz for help. On the way, she saved the brainless scarecrow, the heartless iron woodcutter, and the timid lion; they also asked to meet King Oz together. Because the scarecrow wants to have a mind, the iron woodcutter wants to have a heart, and the lion wants to have courage.

Experience

In the long life, we will always encounter several tornadoes and experience the sense of weightlessness, like being taken to a different world. The story tells us that the beginning of every journey is often an unexpected ordeal. However, as long as you have the courage to face and look directly at the difficulties, keep an open mind and take the first step, the magic of growth will be activated. On this way, you will always meet your partner.
